Connor Goldsmith (W)

Tastemaker Mimi Green is a popular essayist with a perfectly curated social media presence—until a blog post she wrote a decade ago, cruelly mocking fat people, resurfaces and sparks a viral furor. Mimi checks into an isolated mental health facility in Topanga to ride out the scandal, but as sound baths and crystal healings by day give way to restless nights, she's pulled into another version of the building. There the halls are old and gluttonous and gilded, and the vainglorious like Mimi and her fellow patients are punished again and again. Only local bartender Natalie, the lesbian lover Mimi hid from the public, stands a chance of tracking her down before it's too late.

Connor Goldsmith, host of the critically acclaimed podcast Cerebro, makes his comics writing debut in collaboration with GLAAD Media Award–winning artist Josh Cornillon (Young Men in Love), crafting a surreal and grisly take on the wellness industry, so-called "cancel culture," body dysmorphia, and the complex power dynamics of show business.

A new crime-fiction saga created and written by Rockstar Games co-founder Dan Houser (Grand Theft Auto, Red Dead Redemption) with additional writing by Lazlow and art by Eisner Award–winner David Lapham (Stray Bullets).

A Mormon hitman. A gambling-addict lawyer. Two neighbors intertwined in a real estate deal gone wrong. Mix in a Mexican beauty queen on the run from her past, a red-pilled housewife, two escaped convicts in love, a Wall Street billionaire who has become a cowboy, and a maniac hell-bent on revenge. The manicured wilderness of Verona, Wyoming is the perfect cocktail of American culture: real estate development, violence, and snake oil.

From the tax-avoiders in the Rockies, to the thought police of liberal Brooklyn, to the confused political and environmental battlegrounds of Florida, one thing is certain: This tragedy is someone else's fault.

Earth is dying and soon the human race will be unable to survive…

With "dead zones"—areas so toxic no life can survive—littering the Earth and growing every day, it's estimated there are only twenty years remaining before the planet becomes so toxic humanity will die out.

Reactions to the news range from denial to rage and everything in between, but can something still be done? If a new type of human—stronger, able to work in toxic environments—could be made, could they be the key to fixing the dead zones and saving the planet? Or will they simply be humanity's last gasp?
